* Please note: Our test kit portfolio also includes other liquid format products that continue to play an important role in food and beverage testing. While these products offer proven performance within wine testing applications, they do not share all the enhanced features of the new Liquid Ready line, such as extended shelf life and standardized assay design.

 Also suitable for low- or non-alcoholic labeling purpose.

 Customers already using an autoanalyzer can be supported by our technical team to assess compatibility with our kits.
